Group life insurance

As a member of the union, you are automatically covered by a group life insurance policy. Insurance is paid out automatically to your next of kin.

From 1. January 2008, "next of kin" will be regarded as:

- your spouse,
- a cohabitee who lived with the insured party at the same address and is expecting a child or has already had children with the insured party,

- a cohabitee who lived with the insured party for the two years immediately preceding death,
- the insured party's children,
- the insured party's heirs according to a will or the Danish Inheritance Act.

The payout is regulated by the table below and determined according to your age at the time of death
